Great inducements cannot be had in Oregon for investment. Oregon's dividend paying mines are rapidly increasing. FIGHTING JOE IN BRONZE

Equestrian Statue of General Hooker Unveiled

It is Fifteen Feet High and Has a Base of About the Same
Height

Boston, June 25.—This morning occurred the unveiling of a colossal bronze equestrian statue of General Joseph Hooker on the grounds of the State House. This statue was erected by the state of Massachusetts.

The statue is the work of Daniel C. French. It is colossal, measuring nearly fifteen feet high, while the pedestal on which it rests is of nearly equal height. The horse stands with all four hoofs on the ground, its head pulled in, its tail pendant. The general is equally quiet. He wears the soft chapeau, sits with straight knees very erect and holds his head a little back as if observing the movement of troops at a distance.

The dedication of the monument today was made the occasion of a splendid military pageant, 25,000 soldiers of the United States army, national guard of the state of Massachusetts, and sailors and marines from the Charlestown navy yard being in line and constituting the largest parade of armed men seen in Boston in a number of years. In addition to the regular military organizations the parade included members of the Loyal Legion, the Society of the Army of the Potomac, whose annual reunion is in progress here; the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, New England association of Veterans of the Mexican War, Naval and Military Order Spanish-American War Veterans, Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, Worcester Continentals, Sons of Veterans, and Society of California Pioneers, the presence of the latter organization being in recognition of General Hooker's work on the Pacific coast before the Civil War.

The program committee reversed usual order of things and had the unveiling take place before the parade in order that everyone might have an opportunity of viewing the latter. The unveiling exercises were simple and occupied less than a quarter of an hour. The only addresses were the presentation speech by the chairman of the statue committee and the speech of acceptance by Governor Bates. At the conclusion of these addresses the mammoth statue, which up to this time had been enveloped with the Stars and Stripes, was exposed amidst cheers from thousands of throats. As the veil fell, the band played "The Star Spangled Banner," the usual courtesies due to a major-general's rank were given by drums and bugles and a major-general's salute was fired on the Common.

Immediately after the conclusion of the exercises the booming of cannon announced that the parade had started. Along the line of march thousands of spectators were thronged and the various military organizations were loudly cheered. On the reviewing stand, were the state and city officials, survivors of the Army of the Potomac and a number of distinguished war veterans from various parts of the country.

The exercises in honor of the memory of General Hooker will be continued and concluded tonight with addresses in Mechanics' building. The official oration will be delivered by General Charles P. Mattocks.

Grafters Plot to Laid Bare.
St. Louis, June 25.—It was brought out through statements made to Circuit Attorney Folk Tuesday, by witnesses called to testify before the grand jury in connection with the St. Louis street car consolidation deal in the legislature that the legislative agent of the street car companies took $150,000 saved up in the lining of his coat and turned it over to two agents at Jefferson City, for the alleged purpose of buying votes. This was at the session of 1899.

The names of the agent and the individuals willing to spend money so freely to make the consolidation successful are known to the circuit attorney, but are withheld for the present, until all the details and names of the parties concerned are ascertained.

King of Roumania Insulted.
Vienna, June 25.—A dispatch from Bucharest says the king of Roumania has received an insolent telegram signed by several officers of the Sixth Serbian regiment, of which regiment he recently resigned the honorary colonely. The officers declare, in offensive language, that King Charles is not competent to judge their actions. They say he himself ascended the throne of Roumania after a military breach of faith, and that they forego with pleasure the distinction of their regiment bearing the Roumanian king's name.

State Teachers Association

(Special to The Journal.)

Wednesday June 24th.
The Western division of the Oregon State Teachers' Association held its first session in the high school building this afternoon.

Supr. Riegler, of the Portland schools, spoke on the subject "Modern Tendencies in Education." Prof. J. B. Horner, of Corvallis, presented a paper on Oregon literature. H. R. Patenhill, of Michigan, gave a talk on "The How and What." He said in part: "Teachers ought to know much more than they expect to teach. Teachers ought to embrace every opportunity for self-improvement. If any teacher thinks he is a 'big gun' in the profession, he ought to be 'fired.'"

The following Salem teachers are in attendance today: Several more will be present tomorrow: Bertha Ketchum, Mrs. C. M. Ogle, Margaret J. Cooper, Nellie Starr, Grace Bellinger, J. S. Graham, W. M. Smith, Pearl Applegate, Maude Meyers, Ermine Bushnell, L. R. Traver.

Albany Fears the Willamette.
Albany, Or., June 25.—Congressman-elect Binger Hermann was in Albany today investigating the site of the proposed revatment work on the Willamette, a short distance above Albany. He was accompanied by Major Davis and a committee from the Alco Club. Mr. Hermann recognized the urgency of the situation, and has promised to do all in his power to secure prompt action on the part of the government. It is generally believed that, with a few more freshets, the river would cut a new channel, and leave Albany a mile from the river; in fact it is getting deeper each year, and with each succeeding high water the danger increases.

Her Slaying Not Murder.
Spokane, June 25.—Amanda de Lartigue is not guilty of murder. Such is the verdict returned by the jury at Pomeroy at noon Wednesday, after being out all night.

Henry de Lartigue, a Pomeroy farmer, disappeared last September. His wife said he had gone to Honolulu. Last winter his body was found hidden in a potato cellar near his home. During the trial Mrs. de Lartigue confessed that she killed him September 23d, and hid the body. She claimed he attacked her with a gun, and she hit him with an ax. Evidently the jury believed this story, for she was acquitted.

Struck by Falling Man.

Hartford, Conn., June 25.—Falling a distance of 65 feet from the crossbar of a telephone pole to the ground Wednesday Albert Larkum, a lineman, struck and injured three other persons, one perhaps fatally. He is suffering from internal injuries, and his legs are paralyzed. Standing beneath the pole were Mrs. Mary E. Brewster, of Minneapolis; her 11-year-old daughter and Mrs. Charles Edwards, wife of Professor Edwards, of Trinity College. Most of Larkum's weight, nearly 250 pounds, fell upon the child, though both women were struck and bruised considerably. The girl's right leg was broken, and she was terribly crushed.

Senators En Route to Alaska.

Denver, June 24.—Several members of the committee on territories of the United States senate assembled in Denver and have departed for Seattle, en route to Alaska. The committee will visit all the prominent mining and coast settlements, will climb the passes and float down the Yukon to the sea, thence going by boat through the seal fishing preserves. The party includes Senators Dillingham, of Vermont; Nelson, of Minnesota; Burnham, of New Hampshire, and Patterson, of Colorado.

J. W. Gilman Injured.

The Dallas, Or., June 25.—News was today received by Smith French, of this city, of the serious injury of his cousin, J. W. Gilman, a prominent resident of Wheeler county, while operating a derrick on his ranch. Mr. Gilman was struck on the head by a falling block, the blow fracturing his skull. Dr. E. E. Ferguson, with a trained nurse, left here immediately to attend the injured man.

Falls Asleep and Loses $60,000.

Pueblo, Colo., June 25.—A real estate agent named Herrington, from Omaha, who stopped here en route East from Durango, was robbed of a valise said to contain $60,000 worth of securities at the union depot. He had fallen asleep in the men's waiting room.

The refusal of Richard Barnaugh, of Staten Island, to pay his gas bill, has cut off the supply to all municipal buildings.

SALEM'S FINE PLANT

Foundry and Machine Works is Quickly Handled

Since H. M. Edgar took charge of the Salem Iron Works, about a year ago, that institution has increased its business steadily, improved its plant as needed, and today is ready on short notice to make anything in its line. The foundry is well equipped, having four moulders busy, besides the pattern-makers, and employees in the machine shops. Wednesday afternoon Journal man drifted in, just as the boys were getting ready to take the furnace and it was certainly an interesting sight; the molten metal pouring noiselessly in a golden stream into the big pots, and the brassy steam men with steady hands pouring it to the waiting moulds, causing a faint Mt. Pelee to send its flames up through the vents, and ringing one's nerves as the result of catching fire, with sharp sparks. The foundry can turn out any kind of work, and yesterday, among its products, was the front of a boiler, several two-foot pulleys with faces; railing for the top of a small piece for fruit dryer, and a dozen other things that one may see down and worship, for they are fashioned like anything on earth, the waters thereof. In the machine shop a gang was busy fitting up mill machinery for a mill in Washington.

The foundry gives employment to a number of men, the force steadily increasing, and is one of the most substantial that adds to Greater Salem's most valuable population, its "bucket brigade." There is no need of sending to Portland for anything in the line of castings, or a pair of machinery, for it can all be supplied right here in Salem.

The Oklahoma wheat crop suffered heavy damage yesterday from a storm, which amounted almost to a cloud-burst.
